From: UNIFORMITY WITH GOD'S WILL by St. Alphonsus de Liguori

1.Excellence of this Virtue.

Perfection is founded entirely on the love of God: "Charity is the bond of perfection," and perfect love of God means the complete union of our will with God's: "The principal effect of love is so to unite the wills of those who love each other as to make them will the same things."

It follows then, that the more one unites his will with the divine will, the greater will be his love of God. Mortification, meditation, receiving Holy Communion, acts of fraternal charity are all certainly pleasing to God -- but only when they are in accordance with his will. When they do not accord with God's will, he not only finds no pleasure in them, but he even rejects them utterly and punishes them.

To illustrate: -- A man has two servants. One works unremittingly all day long -- but according to his own devices; the other, conceivably, works less, but he does do what he is told. This latter of course is going to find favor in the eyes of his master; the other will not. Now, in applying this example, we may ask: Why should we perform actions for God's glory if they are not going to be acceptable to him? God does not want sacrifices, the prophet Samuel told King Saul, but he does want obedience to his will:

"Doth the Lord desire holocausts and victims, and not rather that the voice of the Lord should be obeyed? For obedience is better than sacrifices; and to hearken, rather than to offer the fat of rams. Because it is like the sin of witchcraft to rebel; and like the crime of idolatry to refuse to obey."

The man who follows his own will independently of God's, is guilty of a kind of idolatry. Instead of adoring God's will, he, in a certain sense, adores his own. The greatest glory we can give to God is to do his will in everything. (Reading will continue next week.)

St. Damien Molokai (1840-1889) was a priest who served the leper colony on the Kalaupapa Peninsula of the Hawaiian Islands. He provided the Sacraments, education, comfort and order to those forced to stay there. Although the disease is not highly contagious, Fr. Damien did succumb to the disease and offered his sufferings along with prayer and adoration for 5 years before he died. "It is at the foot of the altar that we find the strength we need in our isolation," he wrote.

THURSDAY: (5/11) 8:00 am Mass.

St. Ignatius of Laconi: Patron Saint of Students and Beggars (1701-1781) was a Franciscan friar who begged for food and donations to support his order. He daily walked for miles, and most of his supporters were kind and generous. He avoided homes where he knew the residents were dishonest. However, one day at his superior's direction, Ignatius sought the donation of a moneylender who had been taking advantage of the poor. This moneylender donated a large sack of food. When the contents were emptied, the sack began to drip blood. "This is the blood of the poor," Ignatius explained softly. "That is why I never ask for anything at that house." The friars began to pray that the moneylender would repent.
